

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 An exercise device for lower body includes a housing defining two compartments, a tread positioned within each compartment, and compression spring assemblies positioned within each compartment. Each tread is supported by and floats on top of its compression spring assembly.